STANDARD TERMS

1. You are engaged as a freelance contractor, not an employee, and are responsible for your own tax and National Insurance (and VAT, if registered).
2. A standard day is the hours above plus a one-hour lunch break unless agreed otherwise. Overtime is paid at the rate above only when approved in advance by the producer or production manager.
3. Invoice at the end of the engagement (or weekly if agreed), quoting the production. Invoices are paid within 30 days of receipt. If confirmed days are cancelled, the cancellation terms above apply.
4. Everything you create or contribute in the course of this engagement belongs to the production company, which owns the copyright worldwide. You waive your moral rights in it as far as the law allows. You may show finished, released work in your showreel and portfolio unless told otherwise in writing.
5. You will keep the production, the client and anything you learn on it confidential, and will not post about it until it has been released.
6. You will follow the production's risk assessments and safety briefings and report any incident or hazard straight away. Your own equipment is yours to insure unless the production agrees otherwise in writing.
